UNIVERSITY OF
SOUTH ALABAMA

FLAGSHIP OF THE GULF COAST.

At the University of South Alabama, the Gulf Coast is our backyard — a cultural beacon that is alive with opportunities and welcomes all in pursuit of the not-yet-known.

At South, every horizon is yours to claim, and wherever you want to succeed, you'll find the connections to make it happen at the Flagship of the Gulf Coast.

Just as no two students are alike or share the same experiences, no two days at South are the same. With 11 colleges and schools and more than 120 degree programs, the University offers a wealth of opportunities for study in business, healthcare, education, engineering, computing, the sciences and the arts.

USA Health, the region's only academic health system, gives students in medicine, nursing and allied health professions a variety of exceptional learning and research experiences. Our Honors College provides a stimulating community for those with interdisciplinary interests.

No matter your area of study, our faculty and staff take pride in creating a culture that cares in ways both big and small.

We inspire involvement and provide opportunities to help students define their own paths. Students can choose among more than 270 campus organizations, clubs and faith-based groups. Unwind at the Student Recreation Center. And cheer on the Jags competing in 17 Division I sports.

On this Flagship, there's room for everyone, so consider this our call to you — the bold-spirited, the big-hearted, the curiosity-charged. Set your sights on South. Whatever you're ready to take on, we'll be right there with you.

Ready. South. Go.

ALEX DAVIS

Class of 2026

Major: Biomedical Sciences, with a double minor in General Management and Composite Science

Hometown: Chelsea, Alabama

Alex Davis spent nearly a month in Kenya doing hands-on work as part of his study-abroad scholarship. That experience ignited his passion for providing medical care to rural communities in America and abroad, as the people he met in Kenya gave him more than he could ever give them. A gift he will pass along.

DAQUANDA MAGBY

Class of 2025

Major: Sociology, with a minor in Psychology

Hometown: Atlanta, Georgia

Because Daquanda Magby loves to learn about the origin of theories and actions based on those who came before, studying sociology helped her understand the foundation of everything human beings do. Her Sociological Theory class was life-changing, she says, because it challenged her and transformed her thinking. It's no wonder she wants to pursue advanced degrees.

Class of 2026

Major: Biology, with a minor in Sociology

Hometown: Gulfport, Mississippi

Emilie Dedeaux's job as a Jag Guide — helping prospective students through the application process — worked well with her complicated schedule. Through her work, she told others about the incredible sense of community at South, the friendly faces willing to help and the many student organizations available. In other words, how to be a Jaguar.

KATE RAINS

Class of 2025

Major: Marine Sciences, with a minor in Biology

Hometown: Cullman, Alabama

Kate Rains wants to impact the planet in a positive way — and she's off to a good start. Her amazing opportunities at South included working in a coral restoration lab (and snorkeling on beautiful reefs!) in the Florida Keys and spending a week in St. Lucia sampling fish and macroalgae for seafood toxins. The adventures continue in Mobile Bay and surrounding waters.

Class of 2026

Major: Marketing, with a minor in Studio Art

Hometown: Pass Christian, Mississippi

Just as her favorite beverage, a matcha latte, fuels her day, Angelina Ladner's creativity drove her pursuit of a degree in marketing. She thrives designing graphics, editing videos and thinking of ways to bring people to events. She wants to work in fashion or product marketing one day — a plan that's definitely on brand.

BRITNEY QUACH

Class of 2026

Major: Elementary Education K-6

Hometown: Worcester, Massachusetts

As a nature camp counselor, Britney Quach saw education make a difference in children's lives. She finds fulfillment and joy in creating environments where children ask questions, explore new ideas and gain confidence. She feels it's her life's calling. That spirit will take her — and her students — far.

HANNAH RICHARDSON

Class of 2025

Major: Mechanical Engineering, with a minor in Mathematics

Hometown: Spanish Fort, Alabama

For Hannah Richardson, a future aerospace engineer, it's fun to see ideas come to life, such as the slot machine she helped design in her instrumentation class. As a Southerner — a member of South's official student ambassador group — she found joy in sharing her love of the University. A warm welcome from her feels like winning the Jaguar jackpot.

Study Abroad

Study Abroad provides an opportunity for South students to spend time in a different country while earning credit toward their degree through taking classes, interning, volunteering and more. Studying abroad can be one of the highlights of a student's university career, providing a memorable and challenging experience and encouraging both academic and professional growth.

- $100,000 awarded in Study Abroad scholarships every year.
- Programs in more than 60 countries.
- Internships, volunteer programs and research opportunities available.
- Trips can be as short as one week or as long as one year.
- Study abroad and finish in four years.

WALKER REUSSER

Class of 2025

Major: Civil Engineering,
with a minor in Studio Art

Hometown: Mobile

Studying abroad let Walker Reusser pursue both of his academic paths: engineering (seeing structures in Italy that have lasted for centuries) and art (exploring cities and finding greenery everywhere).

Traditions

Traditions abound at the University of South Alabama, which is big enough to offer all the things a large institution can offer, but small enough — and young enough — to be nimble. At South, you build the traditions. Our students are responsible for creating events such as the Battle for the Belt, Junk the Jungle and the annual Oozeball tournament. Other treasured customs include the Jaguar Senior Medallion Awards recognizing our best and brightest seniors and Pancakes with the President, which gives University leadership an opportunity to serve our students a late-night breakfast during finals week. And don't forget the collectible Jaguar spirit buttons President Jo Bonner hands out all over campus. Go Jags!

Housing

Stay close and stay connected! USA Housing offers 55 residential buildings in seven communities, all of which are a short walk or shuttle ride to classes, close to on-campus dining options, near the Rec Center and fitness trail, and an easy walk from Hancock Whitney Stadium.

Live on campus, and you get everything in one affordable package: parking, wireless internet, cable TV, furniture, utilities, free unlimited laundry access and support staff who are available 24 hours a day. South students who live on campus say it's the best way to get involved, make friends and stay on top of studies. To see all the housing choices and benefits of living on campus, visit SouthAlabama.edu/Housing.

Dining

South offers a wide variety of dining options across campus to feed the Jaguar in you. Whether you are in the mood for a caffeine pick-me-up, freshly made food, on-the-go grabs or food court-style options, our dining services are designed with you in mind. Did we mention that we have a pizza vending machine? Or that we're the first in the state to have a 24-hour student access-only convenience store that we have dubbed JagMart?

Admissions and Enrollment Application Process

Students can apply for regular or test-optional admissions. Test-optional students may be asked to provide additional materials. Test-optional students are reviewed based on high school GPA, rigor/performance in advanced courses (AP, IB, honors, etc.) and leadership qualities. Students who fail to meet admissions standards will be asked for additional information and will be reviewed by a committee.

Financial Aid

Be sure to submit your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) at FAFSA.gov during your senior year. Financial assistance can help make a college education possible, and we are here to help you and your family with this opportunity. Financial aid is awarded annually for the academic year, which begins each August. The University uses FAFSA to evaluate students for federal and need-based aid.

2026-27 Freshman Scholarships (4-Year Renewable Awards)

Out-of-state students awarded a Merit Scholarship will receive in-state tuition.

Scholarships

Scholarships are awarded to incoming freshmen based on their test scores and high school/college GPA. For more information on specific requirements, deadlines and a full list of scholarships, visit SouthAlabama.edu/Scholarships.

USA offers scholarships beginning at $1,000 for students who chose to apply test-optional. Those scholarships are awarded on the basis of GPA, course selection (honors, AP, etc.) and a variety of other holistic factors.

In addition, South offers need-based funding to admitted students who qualify through FAFSA. These awards are made after initial scholarship consideration, so it is possible to receive one award and then a few weeks later receive another.

Military Services

The University of South Alabama's Office of Military Services is here to serve our veteran and military-affiliated students. There are often questions about veteran benefits, such as the GI Bill®, the Alabama National Guard Education Assistance Program, and the Alabama GI Dependent Scholarship, as well as tuition assistance.

This office helps to navigate the educational benefits earned through military service that are available to you as a student.

Academic Advising

Academic advising helps students obtain the critical information needed to make thoughtful decisions about a college career, such as deciding on a major or solving any roadblocks along the way. An academic advisor's purpose is to encourage students to develop as self-directed learners and decision-makers. Good academic advising also supports the mission of the University of South Alabama through encouraging student academic success and persistence toward graduation.

Visit Campus

Our South Guides will lead the way, giving you the opportunity to explore our incredible Student Recreation Center, freshmen residence halls, dining facilities, academic buildings and student support service area. Tours also include the convenience of being able to speak with an admissions counselor on the spot to learn more about academic programs, scholarships, support services and student engagement.

Campus Tours are given Monday-Friday and select Saturdays.

Schedule a tour and learn about other opportunities to prowl campus at SouthAlabama.edu/Visit or call us at (251) 341-3951.

Students who attend an on-campus tour with a South Guide, a meeting with USA recruitment staff or one of our special events are eligible to receive a $100 visit credit after they are enrolled.

At the University of South Alabama, we take pride in providing personal attention to each individual within the context of the University admissions process. Our admissions counselors will be available and accessible to you throughout the college search and application process. Many of them have been right where you are today.

Let us help you on your journey to becoming a Jaguar!
